

MUSEUM FIELD TRIPS

AT THE REGINALD F. LEWIS MUSEUM

© Collect Moya Family Trust / VMCA at Artists Rights Society (ARS), NY / The Art Institute of Chicago / Art Resource, NY

ELIZABETH CATLETT: ARTIST AS ACTIVIST MUSEUM TOUR & STUDIO ART EXPERIENCE

Tour our special exhibition Elizabeth Catlett: Artist as Activist featuring more than 40 prints and sculptures of the African American experience in the 20th century.

Students will see works that reflect themes on social injustice, historical figures (Frederick Douglass/Harriet Tubman), women and maternal relationships. A printmaking studio art experience will be paired with this tour.

Grades:
3 -12

Field Trip Experience:
October 30, 2019 through February 28, 2020

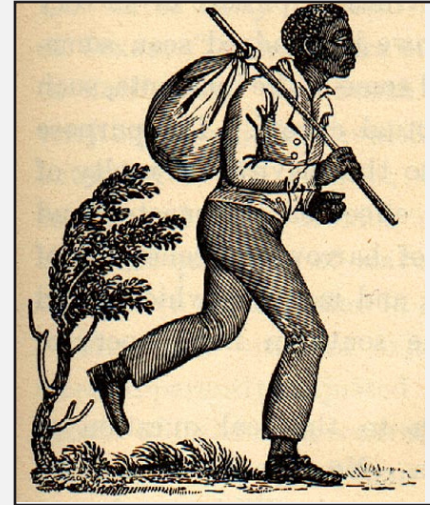

TEACHER OPEN HOUSE

Tuesday, October 22, 4 - 6 pm

Learn about our special exhibitions, sample exhibit related activities and book your tour!
Light refreshments and goodie bags will be provided.

FREEDOM BOUND: RUNAWAYS OF THE CHESAPEAKE

Freedom Bound: Runaways of the Chesapeake tells the stories of nine servants and slaves who tried to escape from forced servitude between 1728 and 1864. Each of the displays represents an actual individual's story, but each also tells part of a larger experience shared by thousands of bound workers who lived and labored in the Chesapeake region. School groups can tour Freedom Bound and see a living history presentation of one of the runaway servants stories performed by Morgan Theatre students.

Grades:
4-12

Field Trip Experience:
April 11, 2020 through June 12, 2020

Tours and studios are free for Title 1 schools and schools with Free Lunch Programs. All others pay admission ($4) and a ($2) fee for the studio/living history experience.

Financial / Bus Transportation Assistance Available

For more details about these programs, contact Terry Taylor at terry.taylor@lewismuseum.org. or 443-263-1829.